The public is invited to participate in a series of free events aimed at using art and libraries to link communities along U.S. Highway 20.

Sal Strom and Lynn Moyers plan to travel the whole length of the highway, starting in Boston, Massachusetts, on May 1 and finishing in Newport, Oregon, on May 31, stopping at small-town libraries along the way. Their project, called Connecting U.S. 20, is meant to honor Strom's late mother, Gracie Strom, who owned the Sea Hag Restaurant & Lounge in Depoe Bay.

As a prelude to their cross-country adventure, the two are holding participatory art events this month in Oregon, including three in the mid-valley in the coming week. Residents are invited to make safety-pin chains symbolizing the connections between communities and make art with colorful pieces of cheesecloth.

Upcoming events are scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday at the Corvallis-Benton County Public Library, 645 NW Monroe Ave.; 2 p.m. Sunday at the Albany Public Library, 2450 14th Ave. SE; and 3:30 p.m. Monday at the Philomath Community Library, 1050 Applegate St.
